

HE'S NOT DISMAYED.

Mayor Noonan Replies to Gov. Stannard's River Letter.

STILL CONFIDENT OF CO-OPERATION FROM THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.

Councilman Meier Enjoys the Hosting of Chairman Arnslein by His Own Petard—The Mullanphy Investigation to Commence Monday—Delegates Arnslein Determined to Open Dickson Street.

Mayor Noonan to-day sent to Gov. E. O. Stannard a letter regretting that gentlemen's refusal to join him in a discussion of river improvement, and expressing his determination to proceed with his plans as he outlined them in his first letter.

"I have letters from enough gentlemen wishing to assist me in this to get what we want for the river," said the Mayor. "I am sorry that the gentlemen who have declined look at it in this light, but I shall go ahead and I shall have the co-operation of the merchants' Exchange before I get through."

Mayor Noonan will probably call a meeting of the gentlemen who have expressed their willingness to confer with him for next week.

Egan's Bill Not Lost.

Delegate James P. Egan has not abandoned his Division Street opening bill. He will try to have it reconsidered by the assembly next week. He voted against it last night for that purpose. The bill has already developed a great deal of sentiment for and against it. The bill is now in the hands of the House. Some of it came out in the debate last night. Delegate W. N. O'Brien thought the bill "dismayed."

"It will cost only $7,000," said Delegate Egan. "To open that street."

"You're entirely too optimistic, Mr. Alt," said Delegate O'Brien. "You think you know it all, but you don't."

"I've a great deal to come over there and I shall try to get it reconsidered by the assembly next week. He voted against it last night for that purpose. The bill has already developed a great deal of sentiment for and against it. The bill is now in the hands of the House. Some of it came out in the debate last night. Delegate W. N. O'Brien thought the bill "dismayed."

The investigation begins Monday. Councilmen Cole, Anderson and Cullinan will begin the investigation of the Mullanphy management, demanded by the Council, next Monday. At this meeting the committee will decide on the plan to adopt and will assign witnesses to the committee.

The committee will begin from the time the city took over the Mullanphy management, and will examine the accounts of every succeeding management as soon as the investigation begins Monday.

"Well, he's got it, hasn't he?" said the Councilman. "A dismaying word, but he wants he has no reason to be dissatisfied."

Councilman Arnslein introduced the resolution for the investigation as soon as the Council convened last night, and it was adopted without a dissenting vote. The bill of the air carried the news to Pontoon Johnny Robinson, the stenographer, and in less than half an hour his white rose badge and short-handled book appeared in the Council lobby. Making his way on tip toe between the legs of the people who occupied the benches, he reached the railing and held a whispered conversation with him. He went away smiling and with modest gratification. Promptly he appeared at another desk near Councilman Anderson and began to talk with him. Then he went home, and Councilman Cole and Anderson looked at each other and laughed approvingly.

Recorder Hobbs disappointed. The Board of Public Improvements will have to send a bill to the Assembly before Recorder William A. Hobbs can get the fireproof building he wants for the custody of the city records. The bill was introduced by Chairman John A. Sloan's committee yesterday and stated that the records were of incalculable value and were in great danger of destruction on account of their location over the boiler of the city engine. He said he had been asked to sell copies of the abstracts he had and that the fact that the records might be lost would have valuable the city records.

In reply to this, Chairman Sloan refused to report favorably on the bill, taking the ground that it should be referred to the Board of Public Improvements. In the Council last night he stated this, and proposed to send the bill to the Board with the request that it should be returned as a board bill. "I object," said the Mayor. "That commits this body to the bill, and I am frank to say that I am opposed to it." Nevertheless the bill went through.

Councilman Arnslein Set Silent. When the Democrats in the Council overthrew President Walden's committee, the cast Councilman E. F. Meier out of the chairmanship of the Railroad Committee and made Councilman Albert Arnslein the Chairman, that gentleman's conduct was so unbecomingly and so unbecomingly that he was declared that his party being in the minority, he was willing to assume all the responsibility. This little bit of history explains the chairman's behavior. The Republican men are doing now after his desertion from the Council. The Republican men are doing now after his desertion from the Council. The Republican men are doing now after his desertion from the Council.

Councilman Cole likes him, and last night when Councilman Walden was elected Secretary's clerk, he challenged the report on the ground that the Council had not heard from him. There had been no word from him. Councilman Anderson protested against the Councilman Arnslein as committee chairman, and Councilman Cole over him. Councilman Noonan then dejectedly reminded Councilman Arnslein of the fact that he was a Democrat, and said that this was a Democratic Council, and that the Democrats were responsible. Vice-President Sloan, who was in the chair, now that the Democrats were responsible, was of this argument, and passed on to other business. Then Councilman Meier, unable to conceal his indignation at the situation, went over to the desks of Councilman Noonan and Councilman Arnslein, and with a loud and hearty Councilman Arnslein said not a word while the discussion went on, but sat with his head bowed and his fingers crossed.

The Money in Garbage. Secretary Walter J. Blakely of the St. Louis Sanitary Co., said to-day that the concern was not borrowing trouble on Contractor James Hardy's account. When the Assembly had passed the bill for the appointment of the inspectors, and the Mayor had chosen them, the company would expect them to begin delivering the garbage to its works. The city had undertaken by its contract to deliver the garbage to be expected to carry out its bargain. The city agreed to deliver such garbage as not with Contractor Hardy. The city agreed to deliver such garbage as not with Contractor Hardy. The city agreed to deliver such garbage as not with Contractor Hardy.

Denying Charges of Brutality. Dr. G. A. Hermann, who is for the present Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, has sent to Health Commissioner George P. Dudley a formal statement of the case of Lizzie Long, a patient who died there recently from consumption. It was stated at the time that the girl's body was dissected, and

MURDER OF OFFICER WALSH.

Popular Manner in Which His Alleged Murderer Was Identified.

The mysterious murder of Officer Michael Walsh at Fourteenth and Olive streets, eleven years ago this month, has been re-opened by the investigation of the alleged murderer in Fitchburg, Mass. On Aug. 17 last a strange uncouth tramp was found loitering about the railroad yards of Clinton, Mass., a village near Fitchburg. He was arrested on a charge of vagrancy, and because he refused to give an account of himself he was sentenced to the Work-house for four months. The tramp was up Dec. 18. He was removed to the Work-house at Fitchburg, and while there told the police his name he gave in Court, Thomas A. Edison, was an alias he had taken. He was repeatedly asked to tell his true name and something of his past life, but he positively refused, and to all requests for information he would reply, "Try your detective skill and find out who I am."

He left the officers under the impression that he was a "good man," and was wanted somewhere so they would not let him go. The officers then printed a description, and the identity of the man was established. The man was identified as the man who had been seen at the scene of the murder of Officer Walsh.

TO SMOKERS.

Accumulations of mucus are especially well marked in the morning, after smoking during the evening hours, when the gastric walls are covered with a thin coating of mucus. Food entering the stomach at this time will become covered with this coating, which, when it is time to prevent the action of the gastric ferments, and so hinders proper digestion. One or two of the Soda Mineral waters taken in the morning before breakfast will clear the throat and stomach of all these accumulations of mucus. These Pastilles are also an excellent remedy for sore throat, colds and all catarrhal affections.
